

Investment in Sensyn Robotics, Inc., a DX solution provider

Nabtesco Corporation (Headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; President: Kazumasa Kimura) hereby announces that it has invested through its corporate venture capital firm Nabtesco Technology Ventures L.P. (Managing Partner: Hiroshi Nerima) in Sensyn Robotics, Inc. (Headquarters: Shinagawa-ku, Tokyo; President & CEO: Takuya Kitamura; hereinafter referred to as "Sensyn Robotics"), which develops DX solutions using robotics technology.

The company uses AI to analyze data collected by cameras mounted on industrial drones and UGVs* to develop DX solutions that improve operational efficiency and quality, focusing on facility inspections, disaster countermeasures, security monitoring, and site management operations. With this investment, Nabtesco aim to provide state-of-the-art preventive maintenance services to a wide range of customers by combining our failure prediction solutions with Sensyn Robotics' inspection DX platform, which utilizes drones and other devices.

*UGV(Unmanned Ground Vehicle)...Ground vehicles that operate unattended without a driver on board
