News Release

February 6, 2012

NTS Achieved IRIS (International Railway Industry Standard)

Nabtesco Corporation (NTS) (Headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo; President: Kazuaki Kotani) is announcing that on January 10, 2012, it received International Railway Industry Standard (IRIS) certification in the braking system and door system categories for railroad vehicles.

Established in 2007 by the Association of the European Rail Industry, the IRIS is an international standard that specializes in improving quality and safety within the railroad industry. IRIS is recognized as an international standard for evaluating railroad products suppliers as well as their quality management systems. Furthermore, IRIS certification is recommended for railroad-related business transactions in Europe.

By receiving IRIS certification, NTS will facilitate its goals of expanding into overseas markets and increasing sales of braking systems and door systems for railroad vehicles worldwide.
