

Awarded Highest Rating from CDP
Nabtesco Named on Climate Change A List 2019

Nabtesco Corporation (headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo, President & CEO: Katsuhiro Teramoto) announces that it was selected for inclusion in the CDP's Climate Change A List for the fourth consecutive year as one of the world's leaders in corporate response against climate change.

CDP is a global non-profit organization that requests companies to disclose their environmental data on behalf of 525 institutional investors with assets of US$96 trillion and 125 major purchasers with US$3.6 trillion in procurement spend and assesses their performance in managing environmental impacts, risks and opportunities. Over 8,400 companies disclosed environmental data through CDP in 2019.

Nabtesco set its long-term CO₂ emission reduction target towards 2030 and 2050 in December 2016. Nabtesco has been implementing thorough energy saving activities on a global scale, such as introducing energy efficient machinery and employing cutting-edge environmental technologies when rebuilding factories.

Nabtesco will continue to engage in environmental and social contribution activities to realize a sustainable society.

The full list of companies that made this year's CDP Climate Change A List is available here, along with all other public company scores: <https://www.cdp.net/en/companies/companies-scores>