

Ongoing Measures against the Novel Coronavirus

June 1, 2020

Nabtesco Corporation

In response to the spread of the novel coronavirus COVID-19, Nabtesco Corporation formulated the Nabtesco Group's policy to tackle the coronavirus and the guidelines for Group employees (hereinafter, "the Guidelines") on March 2, and has been implementing measures in line with the policy and the Guidelines. Following the full lifting of the state of emergency by Japanese government on May 25, Nabtesco Corporation has partially revised the Guidelines and will implement the revised version from today. However, the pandemic has not yet ended. Accordingly, the Nabtesco Group will continue to take preventive measures against the coronavirus, including promoting working from home, staggered commuting and online meetings. We will also provide workplaces where employees can maintain social distance, and will carry out operational reforms to adapt to the "new normal."
